Mosquitoes—our control program

The Town's Mosquito Monitoring and Control Program focuses on the breeding of mosquitoes in wetland areas adjacent to the Swan River. Approximately 95% of the mosquito problems experienced in the Town are associated with these areas.

Wetlands are low-lying areas saturated with water for long enough periods to support vegetation. Wetlands are important as they help improve water quality and regulate nutrient flow. However it is important to recognise that this environment also provides mosquitoes with ideal breeding conditions. Many of these breeding sites are very close to residential areas and therefore may impact significantly on the health and lifestyle of residents and visitors to the Town.

The program

The Town's program commences at the beginning of the mosquito-breeding season, usually around September, and concludes at the end of the season, approximately in May each year. The program involves:

- inspections of sites two to three times a week during breeding season;
- treating the sites when breeding is found with approved larvicides;
- regular trapping of adult mosquitoes to identify species and populations;
- treatment of mosquito breeding on public land;
- enforcement of local laws in relation to breeding on private property;
- investigation of complaints regarding excessive breeding;
- inspecting stormwater drains when required;
- follow-up questionnaires with residents who contract a mosquito-borne disease;
- health promotion activities; and
- regular meetings with neighbouring local authorities, (the Cities of Swan, Bayswater and Belmont and Department of Health), to exchange information, compare results and ensure a co-ordinated and consistent control program.

Take precautions

It is important to recognise that despite there being a mosquito management program in place, and the fact that total eradication is not possible as mosquitoes are a part of our natural environment, those who reside near or frequently visit the wetland areas must take their own protective measures to avoid being bitten.

The essential measures that should be taken to reduce the risk of being bitten and minimise contracting a mosquito borne disease are:

- reduce outdoor activities during high mosquito activity periods (dawn and dusk);
- cover up by wearing light-coloured, long-sleeved shirts and long pants that are loose fitting;
- apply personal insect repellent containing DEET or Picaridin if possible;
- ensure fly screens to doors and windows are fitted and maintained; and
- check your property for potential breeding sources.

Around the home

Mosquitoes breed in standing water! It is therefore important to ensure that your property is also free from mosquito breeding.

To prevent them breeding in your backyard:

- get rid of containers that hold water;
- keep mosquito-eating fish, like goldfish, in garden ponds and eliminate vegetation around the edges of the pond;
- keep swimming pools well chlorinated, filtered and free of dead leaves;
- fit rainwater tanks with insect-proof mesh, including inlet, overflow inspection ports;
- ensure your guttering is water-free; and
- empty pot plant drip trays once a week or fill them with sand.

There are a variety of products that can assist in reducing mosquito numbers around your property that can be applied to vegetation and surfaces.

For information about these products please contact your pest control company or hardware store.

New graffiti contractor

The Town has appointed a new graffiti contractor—Graffiti Force
Tel: 1300 798 143 or email: info@graffitiforce.com.au

Graffiti Force will remove graffiti from:

- Council owned assets including but not limited to office buildings, public halls and facilities, public toilets, aged accommodation, signage, playground equipment, reticulation control boxes, bus shelters, fencelines and walls, streetlights, entry statements, and parks and street furniture.
- Public or private service provider assets, such as (Telstra, Alinta Gas, Water Corporation, Western Power, Public Transport Authority, MRWA etc) that either abut or are wholly located on Council owned land. These include but are not limited to light and power poles, signage, control boxes, fence lines and walls and bus stop indicator poles.

For public comment

The Town of Bassendean is seeking feedback for our Disability Access and Inclusion Plan for 2012-2016. Download and complete our survey from the Town's website www.bassendean.wa.gov.au
More details can be found in this issue.

Ashfield Underground Power project

THE TOWN is pleased to advise that the works to underground the power supply in Ashfield are scheduled to commence in the first quarter of 2012. Western Power has advised that the Ashfield Underground Power design is near completion and final approvals are being obtained. It is anticipated that a project start up newsletter will be sent to all property owners shortly before the project commences which will have details of the different aspects of the work to be done and a map showing the flow of work through the area.

In December 2011, the Council will consider the term and the method of recouping the underground power costs and it is planned that the first instalment of the underground power costs will be listed in the 2012/13 rate notices.

Mary Crescent Reserve —Gathering Site

IN 2005, Council approved the Mary Crescent Reserve Concept Plan and since then has been progressively implementing the plan by removing the old dilapidated public toilets, undertaking the renovation of the existing Alf Faulkner Hall—including a new roof—and by constructing new public toilets.

Recently, the Town was successful in obtaining grant funding from the Federal Government's Regional and Local Community Infrastructure Round 3 to construct the Mary Crescent Reserve Gathering Site. As a result, the Town engaged Mr Peter Farmer to prepare detailed drawings and to construct the gathering site.

The gathering site construction phase is due to commence shortly in the approximate location shown on the Concept Plan, which is towards the north-east side of the reserve.

Comment sought on naming the Ashfield fishing platform

THE TOWN of Bassendean is seeking public comment for the proposed naming of the fishing/viewing platform at the bottom of the French Street steps in Ashfield, in recognition of local Ashfield resident, the late Mr Roy Hookway, who passed away on 14 August, aged 85.

Mr Hookway was a well-known local and one of our longest serving residents of Ashfield having purchased a block in Ashfield Parade in 1953 for £250. He made a significant contribution to the development of Ashfield. In his later years Roy was a familiar face walking his dog down along the river where he would always have time for a chat.

The AshfieldCAN raised the request and Council has approved in principle the platform being named the 'Roy Hookway Platform' and is seeking public comment on the proposal. A report will be referred to Council at the conclusion of the comment period for a final determination.

Landgate has confirmed the fishing platform has no registered name at present, and supports it being named to assist emergency services attending to any call outs.

Comments are to be received by the close of business on Monday 16 January 2012 and should be addressed to the CEO, Mr Bob Jarvis, Town of Bassendean, PO Box 87, Bassendean WA 6934, or by email to mail@bassendean.wa.gov.au.

For further information on this proposal, or on the AshfieldCAN, call Graeme Haggart on 9377 8016.

Battery update and thank you!

The Town of Bassendean collected a colossal 316.3 kilograms of batteries for the period May–August 2011.

By helping to recycle these batteries you are protecting the local environment from heavy metals like zinc, lead, and manganese, as well as avoiding the mining of new steel for new steel products, and preventing these batteries from ending up in landfill.

The elements from the spent batteries are re-used as follows:

Metal	Reused as
Zinc	Galvanising (e.g. streetlights)
Manganese	New batteries and steel alloys
Steel	New steel products (e.g. rainwater tanks)

Where to find our drop-off centres

Drop-off centres in the Town of Bassendean are at the Bassendean Memorial Library, 46 Old Perth Road, and the Customer Service Centre at 35 Old Perth Road.

A big thank you to you for your continued support in responsible disposal of household hazardous waste.

Home-based business survey

Home-based business operators tend to be isolated yet there might be three times as many of these businesses around Bassendean in all the residential areas as there are factories and organisations in the Tonkin Industrial Area.

Help us learn about you...

Here at the Council we want to know about you. Are you in business and how are you going? Not only can working at home be isolating, it can be stressful and difficult to manage your time.

In partnership with our colleagues at the Swan Chamber of Commerce, the Small Business Centre East Metro in Midland and the Central Eastern Business Association we are encouraging home-based business owners to log on, get involved with other businesses and do some networking. It's good for business and it's good for your health.

Understanding your needs

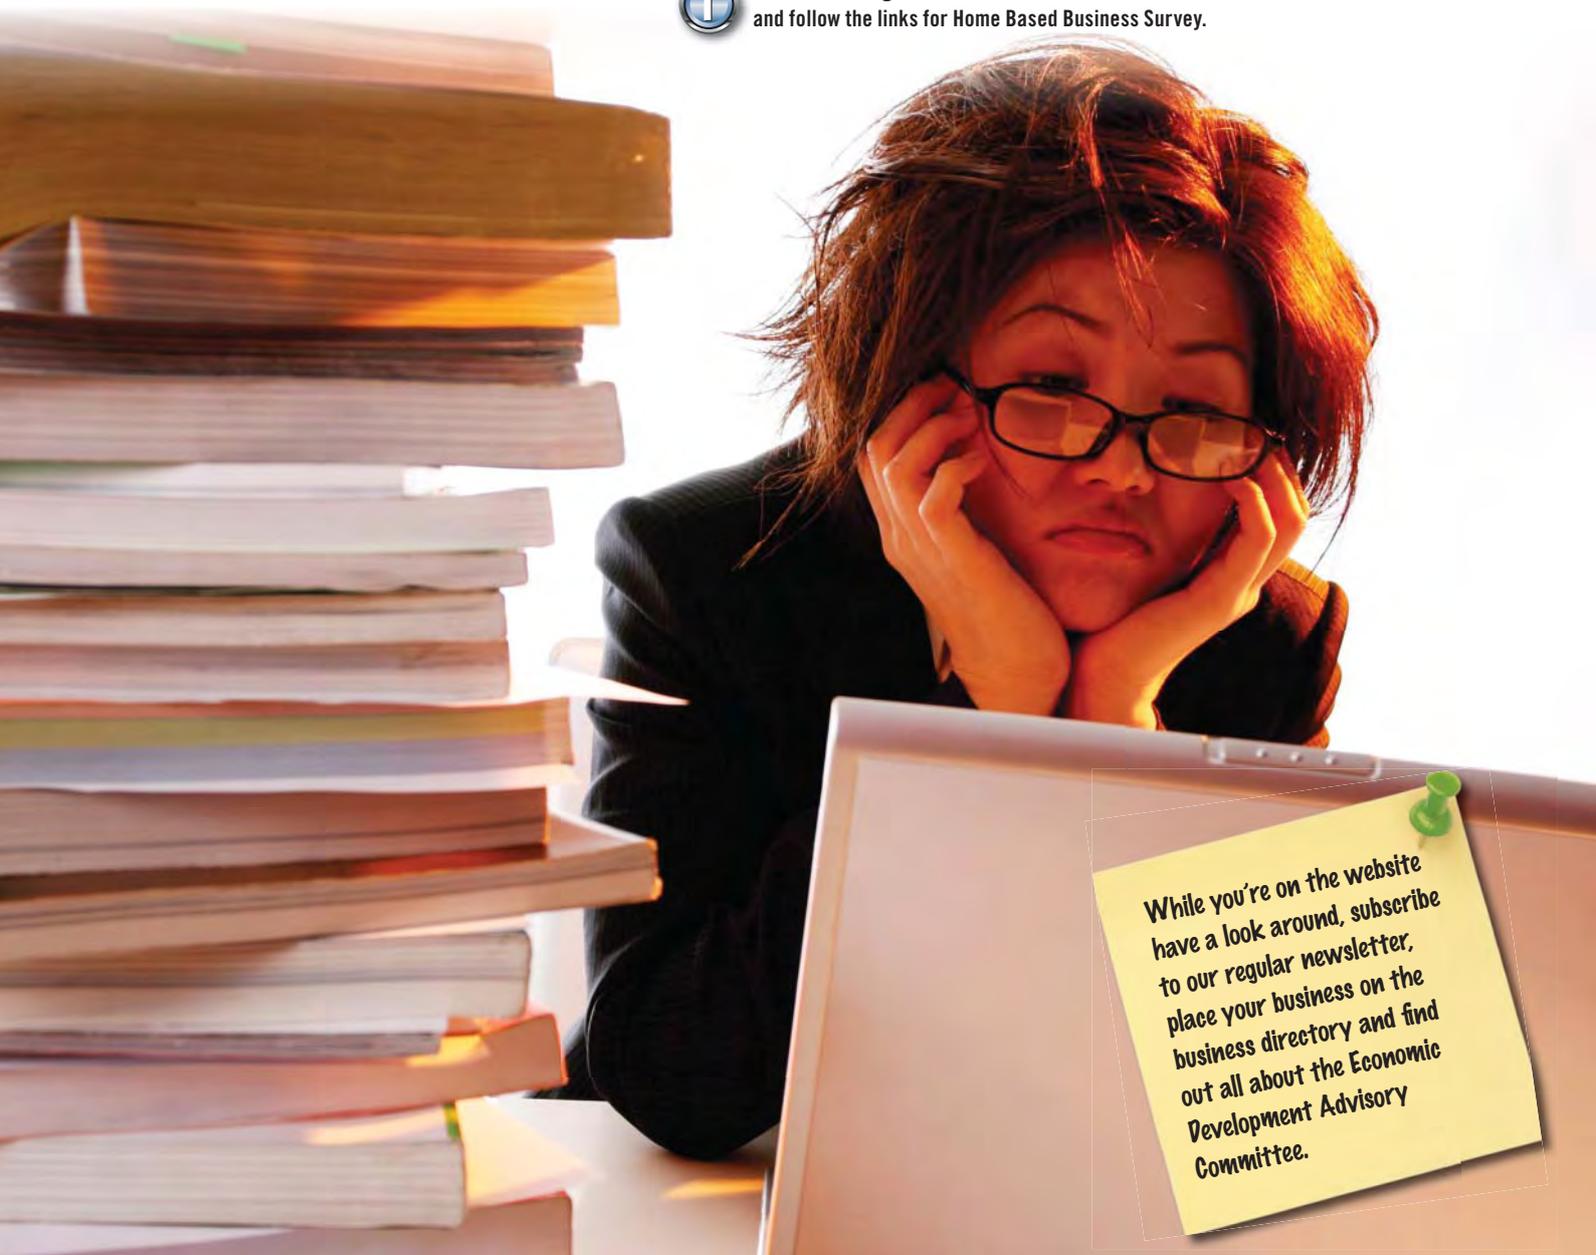

To help us understand your needs and priorities we have put a survey up on our dedicated business website at www.bassendeanmeansbusiness.com.au. It will take you about 10 minutes to complete.

Every completed submission from Bassendean based home businesses will automatically receive a special Bassendean Means Business 4Gb thumb-drive and a 25% discount off the membership of your preferred business association, either the Central Eastern Business Association or Network 2000 Membership, Swan Chamber of Commerce.

Additionally, these hard-working business groups are giving away prizes worth over $1,200 and your name will be in the draw for one of these as well.

For full details go to www.bassendeanmeansbusiness.com.au and follow the links for Home Based Business Survey.

Summer is here! New operating hours for the Markets: 8.00 am to 1.00 pm

At dawn on the last Sunday of each month the surreal morning scene in Old Perth Road is quickly transformed into a thriving 'tent land' of craft, colour, food and entertainment—it's Market Day!

Each month we have an average of 70 stallholders including many regular vendors who love the friendly atmosphere and great location and we watch in amazement as stallholders pour out their wares from vans, trucks and cars and set up ready for business.

With the longer days here we are starting even earlier. The summer trading hours operate from 8.00 am to 1.00 pm for the months of December 2011 through to March 2012 inclusive.

The special Christmas markets this year will be held on Sunday 18th December on the last Sunday before Christmas and they will be a truly festive affair with all the 'crafty' stalls. Also, the magnificent Salvation Army Band will be there to entertain everyone as they play swing, do solos, plus a variety of percussion tunes and all the Christmas favourites. Leading the activities for children will be the man himself—Santa Claus—who will come along to wish everyone a very Merry Christmas. But before all that, Annett Raison will be on stage and will entertain all our visitors.

To celebrate the New Year, our market on Sunday 29 January 2012 will be a 'circus' including balloon twisting, face painting and pony rides! As always, we will have great entertainers providing live music to create a fantastic 'family-friendly' atmosphere while you leisurely wander among the stalls.

The market will bounce into Old Perth Road again on Sunday 26 February with a jumping castle for the kids and a big variety of stalls all backed by local entertainment and a hearty dose of community spirit. What better way to spend a summer Sunday morning?

To find out more about booking a market stall or providing entertainment check out the website at www.oldperthroadmarkets.com.au or contact the Markets Team on mobile: 0428 411 801. If you are interested in Rotary please contact Bill Scanlan on mobile: 0417 965 600.

rangers' corner

Dogs: is yours a nuisance?

IS YOUR DOG being a nuisance and you don't realise it? We all like to have our four-legged best friends with us whenever we can but did you know that your dog jumping up on someone or rushing up to them can be considered a nuisance under the Dog Act? In some cases this can even be considered a dog attack and result in infringements or prosecution?

When out with your dog remember that unless you are on private property or in a designated dog off-leash area, your dog must always be on a lead and under effective control at all times. Even when in a dog exercise area you must have a collar on your dog and you must have a suitable leash with you. Your dog must be under your control and not be allowed to harass other users or animals in the area.

When off the lead, effective control includes, but is not limited to, the dog immediately responding to and obeying a command to return to you, or the dog is kept within easy reach for you to grab hold of its collar to physically control or restrain the dog.

 If you have any questions about control of dogs or dog exercise areas, please contact the Rangers on 9377 7480.

Cats: Responsible Cat Ownership laws passed

LOCAL GOVERNMENTS will soon be empowered to reduce the large number of stray cats being euthanased each year and promote responsible cat ownership in their communities to reduce the unwanted impacts of cats on the community and the environment.

The Cat Act 2011 came into force on 9 November 2011 and will come into operation over two phases. The first phase will commence on 1 November 2012 to give local governments the opportunity to put the necessary administration into place.

Phase two will begin from 1 November 2013, when all cats that have reached 6 months of age will need to be microchipped, sterilised and registered with the local government where they are usually kept; and prior to the transfer or sale, all cats must be microchipped and sterilised.

The Cat Act will give local governments the power to deal with owners that are not responsible, including cat hoarders, and with cats that are not owned. In addition, local governments will be able to create local laws for the control of cats within their district.

The Department of Local Government will also be developing regulations to support the legislation in relation to registration tags and some fees and charges payable under the legislation. The local government sector, along with other stakeholders, will be consulted during the development of the regulations.

Wildlife: who do you call?

AS WE ARE nearing summer there may be times when native animals in the area are increasing their activity, particularly snakes.

When dealing with any wildlife, be that injured, orphaned or just a nuisance, the people to call are the Wildcare Helpline on 9474 9055.

This service is run by the Department of Environment and Conservation and they operate 7 days a week, 24 hours a day. They are a telephone referral service and they can put you in touch with the most appropriate person or organisation to help you and our native wildlife.
